THREE PERSONS SHOT.

Woman and Man Killed and a Girl troduced by the defendant. Wounded by an Unknown Man.

STROUD, O. T., Nov. 4 .- A man rode up to the Ames house, nine miles south of Stroud, last night and shot and killed Mrs. Ames, Jackson, the hired man, and wounded Miss Ames, a daughter, by shooting her in the shoulder. The murderer first forced Miss Ames and Jackson into the cellar at the muzzle of a pistol. They heard a shot and ran to the head of the stairs and found that Mrs. Ames had been killed. Jackson was next killed. The young woman fell with a bullet in her shoulder, but when the murderer went to the cellar and shot Jackson again, she regained consciousness and ran to a neighbor's. She says the murderer was a young man. Several officers are in pursuit of him.

Lafayette Physician Under Treatment for Blood Poisoning.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 4.-Dr. S. S. Washburn, member of the City Council and one of the most prominent physicians in the city, was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital this afternoon in a critical condition from blood poisoning.

Last week Dr. Washburn assisted in a surgical operation at the hospital in which a leg was amputated from A. D. Kiefer, of Kentland, who was badly injured by a fall from a telephone pole. During the amputation Dr. Washburn accidentally pricked his hand with the needle which he used to and since that time has grown gradually worse until it is feared he cannot recover. His arm is swollen far above its normal size and is very painful. Dr. Beasley, who were vaccinated under the general order is attending the sick physician, says there is a chance for his recovery. Dr. Washburn recently sued the city for $2,200 for services during a smallpox epidemic. He is a prominent Democrat and one of the leaders in the Council.

Clerk and Money Gone.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WARSAW, Ind., Nov. 4.- The safe of Hotel Hays, the principal hostelry in Warsaw, was robbed early this morning of the cash it contained, about $160, the money taken in after banking hours. The discovery of the loss was simultaneous with that of the sudden disappearance of Charles W. Snyder, who deserted his post of duty and left the city. Snyder had access to the cash box in the safe, as well as to the cash drawer, in which several dollars for change was always left by Reed & Smith, the hotel proprietors. While Snyder had been in the employ of the hotel only a month, he had the confidence of his employers. A warrant has been secured for Narrow Escape of a Whole Family.

NASHVILLE, Ind., Nov. 4.-The farm residence of James Stewart, eight miles north of Nashville, was destroyed by fire early this morning, with all its contents. The loss is about $3,500. Mr. Stewart was awakened by the roar of the flames. His wife fainted and he carried her to the yard. With increasing difficulty he saved his five children from the second story. His feet were badly burned and his hair and eyebrows were singed off. None of the family's clothing was saved and the members are being cared for by neighbors.

To Health by Swamp-Root

WOMEN suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not always correctly understood; in many cases when doctoring they are led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for their ills, when in fact disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles. Perhaps you suffer almost continually with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and utter exhaustion.

I was out of health and run down generally; had no appetite, was dizzy and suffered with headache most of the time. I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble, but somehow felt they might be, and I began taking Swamp-Root, as above stated. There is such a pleasant taste to Swamp-Root, and it goes right to the spot and drives disease out of the system. It has cured me, and I cheerfully recommend it

JAPAN A WORTHY FOE.

Russia Will Find a Stubborn Oppo nent in the Little Japs. Philadelphia Press.

When the clash comes between Japan and Russia, as seems inevitable, sooner or later, an amazing spectacle will be afforded the whole world. Against Russia's hosts will be arrayed a legion of Orientals, not of the slow-thinking, conservative type, but composed of men who represent the vanguard of Mongolian civilization. The Cossack, flerce, cruel, precipitate, is destined to reach out and grasp for Manchurian or Korean territory. He may not do it to-day or to-morrow, but when the time comes there will be waiting for him half a million men of the Mikado's insular empire, alive to all the uses of modern warfare, just as eager for war and every inch as good a fighter. The Jap is a born soldier. He is keen and alert; he is full of jealousy where his national pride is concerned or his rights menaced. Shrewdness, intelligence and the indomitable spirit of progress-all these combine to make him a dangerous and aggressive foe. For almost half a century Japan has been struggling to get and keep abreast This she has now accomplished, but the modernizing of Japan has not subdued the New Jersey end of the Hudson-river termibarbaric, half-savage tendency of her people. An incident of the Japan-China war of 1895 proves this. The intrepid Japs had stormed and taken Port Arthur. On land- at the foot of Morton street. ing their forces they discovered a number of mutilated Japanese prisoners among the dead. In an instant the old Oriental spirit of revenge asserted itself and horrible atrocities were committed on the Chinese. China in those days, learned a terrible lesson from her smaller but more progressive antagonist. In the field maneuvers and naval actions Japan demonstrated the value of education. Her men fought not only bravely, but intelligently, forming powerful units by land and sea. The immeasurable distance that lay between the advancement of these two nations was shown only to the foreign military attaches who studied both throughout the struggle. There could be nothing but admiration for the alert Japanese private who handled his modern carbine with skill and pre-drew forth more pity than contempt. In accoutrement, as well as in arms, the Jap was the superior. His haversack, blanket roll and camp cooking outfit stood for a composite of the best points in that line, as gleaned by the Japanese officers abroad from the foremost European armies. His cap, with its low visor to screen the eyes from the sun and its high crown to keep the head cool in summer, was borrowed from France and Germany. His leg gear is a compromise between the English puttee and the French legging. Altogether, the wiry little Jap was a smart fellow in his

To-day there are over one hundred Chinese non-commissioned officers stationed at the different barracks in Japan studying the science of war. The Chinese may be slow, but they recognized a most efficient instructor in their victors. Strangely enough, precedent shows that nations which cherish domestic tranquility are the most stubborn fighters abroad. Roused from his picturesque surround-ings, his rice fields and his miniature gardens, the Jap becomes transformed and eagerly responds to the call for arms. He is ready for action in an instant-the fight-ing spirit of the ancient dai-mos, or feudal lords, needs only to be kindled within him. Russia might crush Japan in time by dint of overwhelming numbers, but the task would tax the resources of the Czar's vast army severely. Russia would not find Japan of to-day the timid Japan that meekly submitted to a bombardment in 1860 When Japan goes to war she will fight with the ardor of the patriot who is defending his own home. It will not be a handful of green troops which takes the field, but a large standing army and a capable body of reserves, disciplined to a nice

BOY BURGLARS CAUGHT.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 4.-John Welch, aged eleven years, and Charles Walls, aged nine, were arrested last night, and confessed having broken into Vandiver's grocery store, on East Morgan street, and turned back to the officers about $5, with several articles, such as tobacco, cigars, pencils, pens, etc., which they had stolen. They said they broke a glass in the door, and after playing about the door person was near and entered the store and helped themselves. A resident near the store heard the breaking of the glass and watched them, and after they disappeared called the officers and gave such a good description of the boys that the officers were

Thousands of Women Restored

Women as well as Mcn Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

YOUR poor health makes you nervous, irritable and at times despondent; But thousands of just such suffering or broken-down women are being restored to health and strength every day by the use of that wonderful discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.
